

IAFPA 2017

Call for papers

Abstracts are invited for the 26th annual conference of the International Association for Forensic Phonetics and Acoustics (IAFPA) in Split, Croatia in 2017. We welcome abstracts on topics such as:

- Speaker comparison
- Speech and audio enhancement
- Transcription
- Speaker profiling
- Disputed utterances
- Voice line-ups
- Authentication of recordings
- LADO (Language analysis for the determination of origin)
- Automatic speaker recognition/comparison
- Retrieval of speaker population data
- Interesting case reports

This is not a complete list and other topics would be welcome if they promote the aims of IAFPA (cf. www.iafpa.net).

We are planning three categories of papers:

- (1) Regular oral papers
- (2) Regular poster presentations
- (3) Work in progress poster presentations. This is a special poster session to outline new or ongoing research developments, particularly suitable for students.

Important dates

- Abstract submission deadline categories (1) and (2): Sunday 26 March 2017 (extended)
- Abstract submission deadline category (3): 31 May 2017
- Expected notification of acceptance: 30 April 2017 (category 3: 15 June 2017)
- Conference dates: 09-12 July 2017

Abstract format

- Length: maximum 500 words, excluding title and references
- Abstract format: submit as PDF, excluding name(s) and affiliation(s) of author(s), please also remove authorship metadata
- Template: (see the other document in the attachment)
- Abstracts must be in English

- Use only the words 'IAFPA abstract submission' as a subject.
- Please indicate on your abstract whether you prefer to do a poster presentation or a talk (see template).
- Send your abstract(s) to iafpa2017@gmail.com by 15 March 2017

Best Student Paper award

There will be a best student paper award. Please indicate on your abstract whether your paper is eligible for the student paper award (see template). The criteria for participation are:

- The first author is a student, i.e. registered as a (master/PhD) student.
- The first author presents his/her presentation or poster in person at the conference.
- The work presented has been done by the student.
- Note: being a student member of IAFPA is not a requirement.

The winner of this Prize wins free registration for next year's IAFPA conference.

To contact IAFPA Conference 2017 send an email to: iafpa2017@gmail.com